

Performance Commentary

The fund delivered a solid absolute return in July despite headwinds from lower interest rates, which propelled a general rotation out of value assets. Markets are forward-looking and the continued lower yield dynamic requires a temporary inflationary situation, as communicated by central banks, and a reduced global growth outlook heading into next year. There is a fair probability that the tapering of the central banks' QE experiment and persistently higher inflation could result in precisely the opposite. The fund's best performer in July was our largest position, namely US food retailer Albertsons, which announced a strong earnings report and raised guidance. Argonaut Gold also performed well as the company disclosed solid progress in becoming a mid-tier gold miner. The fund benefitted from a revised takeover offer for our mobility service provider Europcar from a Volkswagen-led consortium. Fortuna Silver, which recently acquired our position in Roxgold, was weaker as the silver price declined somewhat but we see the shares offering solid value at current levels. Korean banking group KB Financial was also weaker, but the group released solid operating results at the end of the month. We initiated a position in Korean DB Insurance, which trades at a substantial discount to fair value and looks set to be able to raise prices and combined ratios in the medium term.

SKAGEN Focus is a high conviction equity fund that seeks to generate long-term capital growth by investing in a portfolio of global companies with a bias towards small and mid-cap companies.
